

Two Vital Signs of Wellness: Health and Education

Facilitators: Alonzo Patterson III, MD and Ashley Steveley

Dr. Patterson

A. Steveley

Dr. Alonzo Patterson, an experienced pediatrician in our region, and Ashley Steveley, who focuses on social determinants of health, will lead a discussion of programs that connect education and healthcare partners, to increase collaboration and better promote children's wellness through a culturally humble and trauma-informed lens.

Alonzo Patterson III, MD, has served children and families as a general pediatrician for over 30 years, mostly in West Dayton. He also serves as the Chief Medical Health Equity officer for Dayton Children's Hospital and is on several community boards.

After serving in local public health departments as a health educator and accreditation coordinator, Ashley Steveley, MPH came to Dayton Children's Hospital to lead several initiatives. As a public health professional, she works daily to improve the quality of life of the residents in the community she serves and manages Social Determinants of Health Program
